Above you will note the dates, times and places of our Saskatchewan and Alberta Workshops for 2015. We did not have the usual Fall workshop in 2014. From past years, you may be familiar with the workshop content and the types of information we bring you every year. For those who are new this year, be sure to attend and take part in this valuable information-sharing event. There is no registration fee, and we provide breakfasts everyday and refreshment breaks in the mornings and afternoons. We ask that you book your own travel and lodging, which as in other years will be your own responsibility. The contact numbers and negotiated room rates are listed above. The special rate for Edmonton will be held until May 16, 2015, and for Saskatchewan until June 5th. Please refer to our Workshop when booking your room for these rates.

Call us at 1-800-667-4712 and register for the Saskatchewan workshop by May 15th or the Alberta workshop by June 1st and your name will go into our Early Bird draw for 2 nights' accommodation at the hosting hotel at our expense. If you miss these deadlines, be sure to get your registration in by no later than May 25th and June 5th respectively so that we know how many guests we will have and how many breakfast meals we need to order. Not all of my invited Speakers have confirmed, so I have not attached the Agendas. I do assure you that we will have our usual excellent array of topics and presenters.

Between now and the workshop dates please canvass your staff members and find out what types of questions they need answers to. Make note of those questions, and raise them at the workshop. We look forward to seeing you in Prince Albert or Edmonton!
